BEHIND THE LINES

Ty Ponder, Scott Bass, Troy Page

Behind The Lines is the "true story of surfers during the Vietnam war." This film takes a look at the impact the Vietnam War had on the surf community specifically. Following the stories of two surfers who take two very different paths, this film is gritty, truthful, such an amazing piece of work. Obviously it resonates with the bullshit we're going through these days, and in taking a look back, we can all learn a lot about the future. Narrated by John Milius (director, Apocalypse Now), Behind The Lines should be shown in every coastal history class. A must-see, it's up there with Bustin' Down The Door in the realm of amazing surf docs.—c.c.
